

---

CATS ILLUSTRATED

---

Harvey has been kicked out of his cupboard!

Yesterday, Makenna was seen inside Harvey's favorite cupboard with an unknown black cat. Harvey was not in that cupboard, or the other one. There still has not been any confirmed sightings yet today. Above in the photo are 2 cats - 1 of them could be Harvey. Keep a lookout for Harvey, he is an old cat and needs to be found. (Information on the right)

If you sight Harvey, contact Leo Sahlin to confirm and possibly earn a reward.

Harvey information - Keep a Lookout

---

1. Harvey is missing a front foreleg.
  2. Harvey has white patches on his throat and belly.
  3. Harvey has a pretty large belly.
-

Juliet has been confirmed Drunk!

Earlier yesterday, Juliet was confirmed drunk by local authorities. She has lost her license to let her kittens suckle for the fear that the alcohol could taint her milk. She is in custody and is waiting for questioning. Meanwhile the kittens are being fostered by another mama cat, Mavis.

The kitty cops have dug deep in Juliet's records and found that she was arrested in high school for drunk driving and underage drinking. She spent a week in jail, and has always had a knack for causing trouble.

Juliet's twin sister, Rudy, is at the police station with Juliet. She said that "Juliet had only 3 glasses", but there is hard evidence that she downed an entire bottle of wine. Juliet is looking at a month long sentence, for endangering her kittens by being drunk, and letting them suckle while the alcohol was still in her blood stream. It looks like she will not suckle them again before they are weaned.

All the local wineries have been notified and warned by the kitty cops about Juliet's drinking problem. Selling her any more alcohol may result in police closure and a sentence of 1 week in jail. The authorities don't want Juliet to become an untreatable alcoholic.

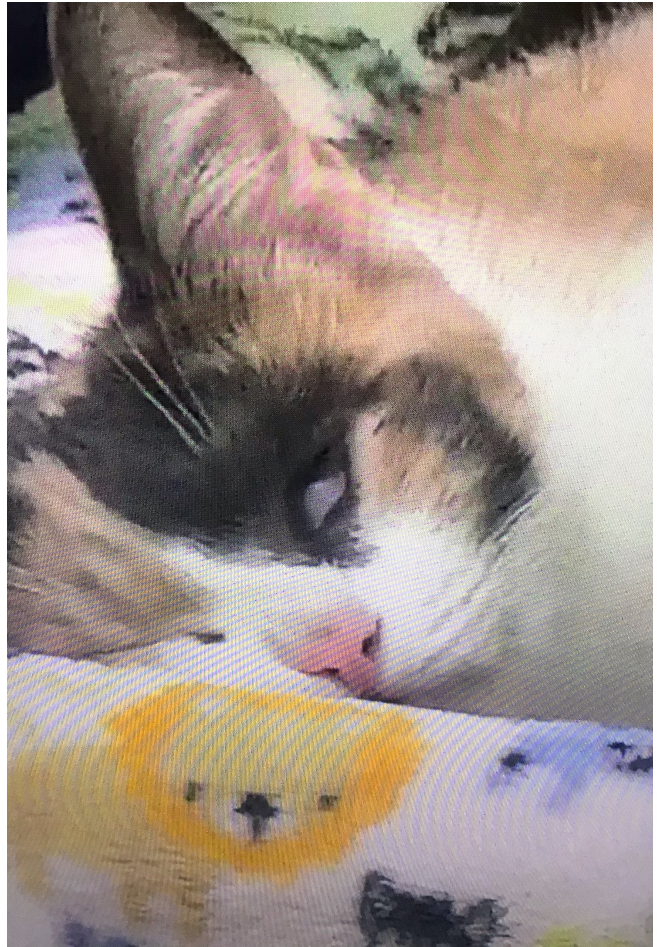

Photo above - Juliet looking drunk. Story on the left.

---

"I know she likes alcohol - but won't it taint the milk she produces for her kittens?"

- LEO SAHLIN

For the past half hour, Juliet has been crying about how much she wants to see her kittens. She is currently in a comfortable holding cell with her 1 visitor, Rudy. The kitty cops are wary about this decision, because if Rudy switched places with Juliet, they might not be able to tell the difference between the sisters.

There will be more news about this issue in the next volume of Cats Illustrated. Subscribe for more issues, and enjoy!