
CATS ILLUSTRATED

Mavis is letting Annie find her friends!

Earlier yesterday, Mavis made a bargain with Annie. Annie would help Mavis defeat Lemon and his falcons, but she would get to find her mate and friends first. So, Mavis let Annie out after lunch.

Many cats were worried about this. With a falcon on the loose, kittens were not safe. And if Annie was rounding up 3 more falcons, she could choose to turn on Mavis and the cats and attack. With 3 falcons, Harvey would have to call for the military to step in. However, falcons didn't usually attack in groups, so even the military might not know quite how to contain the falcons. But, Mavis trusts Annie to bring her falcon friends and come back. Then, they can plan about how to defeat Lemon and put someone worthy on the throne.

Image above - Annie searching for her mate and friends.

This was another topic of debate. Once Lemon got captured, there would be no leader of the cats. So, who would take the throne after Lemon? Cats have been disagreeing about this. A lot of cats think Harvey should take the throne. Harvey however doesn't want to seem like an old leader like Joe Biden, a human leader, and he wants a younger cat on the throne in the first place. Reposado wants the throne because she thinks it would make her feel powerful. However, Coffee told everyone something that changed things. He said, "Lemon told me that I was his heir to the throne, so I should become the leader once Lemon is captured." This caused more disagreements.

By 10:00, Annie had not come back. Mavis was pacing the floor, and she was muttering about something like how it might be Annie who betrays the cats and destroys civilization. Mavis walked up and down the block, passing Naya's house where Naya was packing boxes into a moving truck. Naya was leaving until the war was over, and her kittens were coming with her. Right now her kittens were teary eyed looking around. They wanted to stay and fight, and they were jealous of Mavis's kittens. The only one of Naya's kittens who was happy was one of the gray ones that had bargained with one of Mavis's kittens to switch places. It cost Naya's kitten $100, 3 new video games, a coupon for a free slushee, and to spread the rumor that Mavis's kitten was a cool cat.

"I don't want any of my kittens to be in the middle of a war, so I am moving with them somewhere else temporarily."

- NAYA, WHO DOESN'T USUALLY ACT LIKE THIS

However, at 11:12, Annie, breathless returned. Soon after, 3 other falcons landed down. Mavis gave Annie the translator, and Annie introduced her mate as Grinnell, and her friends as Flip and Scarrow. She said that Flip knew that Lemon was going to do a full attack soon. Then, Annie said she'd help fight.

Subscribe again for Lemon's attack!

Image above - Mavis, eating by herself and wondering if she made the right choice by letting Annie go find her friends.