

---

CATS ILLUSTRATED

---

Judy can't afford her apartment's rent!

Judy, after a couple months of financial problems, has finally not been able to pay her rent. Her apartment is not an expensive one, with a rent of only 2,000 dollars a month. However, Judy only has a part time job as a Burger Cat worker, and her mate, Max, is taking days off work to see his family. So, Judy has been the main worker recently, and her job has not been enough to pay her rent. However, Judy has already located a good den for her and her kittens. It is made out of leaves, it is waterproof, and it is cozy. And, it is part of a duplex near the male cats who have that one kitten. It is in a nice neighborhood, and cats who have lived there say that their neighbors are very nice. Judy's kittens don't have to go to a new school, and there is lots of space for everything. Judy has just told her kittens, and they seem on board with the move. However, Judy wants to keep this secret. Mavis will think that she needs help financially if she finds out that Judy is living in a bush. So, Judy is making all of her kittens get a part time job at some place, to save up money until Judy can get a nice apartment again.

Image above - Judy, about to tell Ice about the fact that they can't afford their apartment's rent.

---

However, since this news is coming from Cats Illustrated, at least someone must have found out already. So, when Juliet heard the news, she didn't believe her ears. Then, she went over to the apartment that Judy had been living in. It looked bare, and the last moving van was pulling away from the curb. Wow. She really was moving. Juliet quickly whipped out her phone and went on to her Find My Furrends app, and looked up Judy. She was a couple of miles away, in a duplex with some other cats, including the ones that needed milk for their kitten. Juliet still had a small grudge about how they were benefiting of her milk without payment, but Juliet had mostly gotten over that.

Image above - Judy, looking up at her apartment for the last time.

For Judy, on the other hand, things were going nicely. All of her kittens agreed to get part time jobs, and today they were out job hunting while Judy unpacked. However, Judy was not expecting a visit from Juliet, who was bewildered at the sight of Judy's expensive clothes and personal belongings strewn across the floor. Her first word was, "why?" And that was when Judy looked up and saw Juliet.

"I didn't know Judy was having these financial problems recently, she didn't tell anyone about it!"

- JULIET, WHO'S A LITTLE SURPRISED

At first Judy looked a little embarrassed. Then she shrugged her shoulders. "I needed a new home, and I wanted to try something new, so I decided to move in here for the time being. It's not wrong or anything, I just need more time to get back on my feet." Juliet just nods, and turns to go. But Judy rises and says one last thing. "Please don't tell anyone yet."

Subscribe again to hear more about how Judy is doing financially!