

---

CATS ILLUSTRATED

---

Things are clearing up for Judy and Scratch!

After Judy told her story to Max, her kittens, Harvey, and Mavis who was on the phone but muted after a rude comment escaped, the word got around fast that Judy was safe. However, cats were still a little bit wary of Scratch. Judy and Max had taken over the filming, but many cats wanted to see the movie already. A kind of surprising ending, if anything. Also, Scratch was claimed to be seen in the grocery store, as if he was looking for something or someone. A little later, Judy disappeared and went off the map for half an hour. When she returned, she was smiling. Because Scratch had “killed” Judy, he got into the gang he really wanted to join. And, the movie was bound to be a bestseller with the reaction from cats who had heard about it. Unfortunately, Judy still didn't want to face Mavis quite yet. Mavis was the one that actually saw the filming in action, and unexpectedly walked into it. However, this actually turned out pretty well. But Mavis still was wary of Scratch after he disabled her with a single pinch. Mavis had actually thought Judy was dead at the time.

Image above - Judy, safe and sound in her own house.

---

However, there is a big wrestling tournament coming up in the near future. There are 8 contestants, and Mavis is one of them. However, so is "The Muscle". This means that Mavis and Harvey will probably meet head to head in the championship, because they are on different sides entirely. Harvey is paying Mavis to keep her mouth shut about his secret wrestler identity because then even his family would want an autograph. North doesn't know, either. It's just Harvey and Mavis.

Max and Judy's kittens are extremely happy to have her back. They went out to dinner, and got the 150 dollar tuna fish platter for the meal. That one dish cost more than 3 times as much as all the other costs combined, including sides, drinks, and tips. However, it's not every day that a cat you think died came back to you, alive. So, Max didn't mind spending some extra money.

Image above - Harvey, fitfully thinking about what might happen if Mavis lets something slip to someone else about his secret identity.

“That tuna fish platter cost a whole day's worth of work money, I thought we were saving!”

- MAXINE, WHO WANTS TO SAVE

has actually lived there.

In the celebration, even worries about Scratch have been forgotten. Unfortunately, Scratch was kicked out of the gang when he suggested they go clean and start a charity. That mere thought was enough to get him out of the gang. However, Judy's not going to help him again. So, Scratch will have to find something else to do. But, Judy can recommend a nice neighborhood to live in, and an excellent quality bush house. In fact, Judy

Subscribe again to hear more about tensions and problems between Harvey and Mavis about wrestling!