
CATS ILLUSTRATED

Rudy has been gambling!

Ever since one of her kittens caught her sneaking out in the night, Rudy confessed that she had been gambling on illegal wrestling matches that went on at night. The news spread quick, even to Mavis, who was holed up in her house, not willing to face anyone but her kittens after she unleashed the power of fans on Harvey, and even Harvey heard, even though he is in a secret bunker underneath his house. Fans had come in and taken everything so they would have something of his. The whole place was picked clean, but cats were complaining that none of The Muscle's trophies were there. Harvey posted a photo of all of the trophies in the police station, and a lot of cats went there. However, Harvey had called ahead to the station and told them that the horde of cats coming looted and ransacked his house.

Image above - Rudy, sleeping with her kittens and trying to pretend that everything is normal.

They were going to have to build a jail cell addition. However, back to the main story. Ever since Judy bought her new house, Rudy has been jealous. Blackspots, her mate, is a scholar and teaches at university. However, he can't teach the evening class on work days anymore because Rudy can't cook. She also can't correctly place a takeout order, either. It's probably because of her job as a blacksmith, welding with hot iron all day. She is so tired when she arrives home that she can't even make a cool bath as recommended by her employer. So, she makes the bath every morning so she can go to it when she is done with work.

However, neither of these jobs have high pay. And Rudy and her 6 kittens and her mate live in a 1 bedroom apartment. The kitchen is small, there is only 1 bathroom, which doesn't even have a real toilet, and there is a small space that you could call a living room. Ever since Judy bought her big new house, Rudy has been jealous. So, she started gambling for money. It started out well, but the cats there said she couldn't ever play again if she walked out after a big win. Rudy still walked out, with some money in her pocket. However, Rudy was hooked. She looked for some other gambling spots, and eventually found one that boasted of high win percentage. However, Rudy lost a lot of money there, and she was about to try a new one when her kitten found out what she was doing.

“I wonder if I could set up a gambling ring for money too...”

- RUDY JR., THE KITTEN WHO FOUND RUDY OUT AND MOSTLY A RULE FOLLOWER

try something totally new. So, at dinner, she announced that it was time for her kittens to quit school and work full time.

Subscribe again for more about Rudy and her kitten's job situations!

Image above - Rudy, snacking and thinking about gambling without actually going to do it.

Stripy especially was not happy about this. “Gambling is a drain. Everything gets sucked down, your life, your home, and your money. Especially your money. Make your kittens get part time jobs, like Judy. But don't resort to gambling.” And this was what irked Rudy. Judy had thought of the part time job idea first. But Rudy had an idea, and she would