
CATS ILLUSTRATED

Judy is going on trial!

After the shocking events of Saturday, the police have decided to put Judy on trial for her crimes against North and Naya. Luckily, we snuck a reporter into the trial stadium to record the trial. It happened about 2 hours ago, and ended about 30 minutes ago. After seating everyone in the courthouse, the judge stood up to speak. "Judy White has been accused of filming North Harvey-Makenna and Naya White for a movie. She filmed them without their permission, and lied to cats and said that they were acting. She has so far been refusing to delete the film, even to the police. Right now they are searching her house and computer files and deleting the movie clips. However, Judy White must stand trial for her crimes, and possibly receive a sentence for jail. Now, calling Harvey Jackson to speak."

Image above - North and Harvey, 2 of Judy's accusers.

Harvey stepped up to the podium, and started speaking immediately, curtesy of the 15 minute timer that the judge had set for speaking. "Judy committed a crime against my kitten, North, and his she-catfriend, Naya. She filmed them illegally for a movie, and told other cats that they were acting willingly. They had no idea that they were being filmed, and Judy even messed with their relationship to make the movie have more drama. In my mind, even if Judy does not go to jail, this is an unforgivable crime against her family. I yield the podium." Harvey stepped down, and the judge stepped up, and called Judy. She wasn't even able to hire a lawyer - they were disgusted with her crime.

Judy stepped up to the podium, and then spoke. "You may not like what I did, but life isn't always fair. You won't always get what you want, but once something is done, you have to follow it through. I've paid over 10,000 dollars to make ads and special clips of this movie. I've spent hours pouring over the film, deciding what to add and what to cut. You may not like what I've done, but you can't just ask me to throw away the film. I need the money that the movie would make. And you want to throw away the film. I can't allow you to do this. I yield the podium." Judy stepped down, and the judge called the final speaker, Stripy.

Image above - Lunch, who is feeling betrayed as she hears all of the crimes stated against Judy.

"I can't believe Judy would do this. She let me stay at her house for days!"

- LUNCH, WHO'S FEELING A LITTLE BIT BETRAYED

Stripy stepped up to the podium, and spoke. "Since I am a peacemaker, it is my job to speak at the end after hearing both sides speak. I think that what Judy did was horrible, and she even meddled in another cat's personal business. These actions deserve punishment. However, she has a point. She needs the money the movie would make. However, law states that she can't release the movie due to the fact that some of the film is of cats who didn't know they were being filmed. Therefore, I must ask that Judy delete the film and all other evidence of the movie. I yield the podium."

Subscribe again for Judy's possible sentence!