Rice jr. is alive!

Ever since Rice and Rice jr. were attacked and defeated on the property of the thief's house, there has been a perimeter set around the house and Rice and Rice jr. are in the hospital. Rice jr. is alive, he had just gone into deep unconsciousness. He was still asleep, but he would get better. Rice however, had gotten a concussion. He was awake at the moment. Ice hurried into his hospital room to see Harvey, licking Rice all over. Rice was relaxing, and Ice cleared his throat. Rice looked up, slightly embarrassed, and gestured for Harvey to leave. "What is it?" Rice asked.

"I need to know what happened at the property of the thief that got you and Rice jr. so gravely injured," Ice told him, "Juliet and Rudy blame me for leaving you and Rice jr. alone there. I need to at least know what happened.” Rice nodded, took a deep breath, and then started telling Ice about what happened. “Well, you drove off, and Rice jr. was like, Uhh, why didn’t Ice leave us snacks. And I was like, seriously? Then, Rice jr. smelled something strange and followed his nose to a bush. Suddenly, something jumped out, and caught a glancing blow to Rice jr.’s head. Rice jr. kicked out at the cat’s stomach, but they dodged insanely quickly and scored one of Rice jr.’s chubby forelegs with their claws. Then, I charged at them, and grappled them with my front paws. I pounded at their belly with my chubby forelegs, but I only made a small wound before the threw me off with incredible strength. My head glanced off a ceramic pot, and I was concussed. Before falling into unconsciousness however, I saw the cat jump in the car and drive away from your route back to Juliet’s house.” Rice finished, and looked at Ice with a grim expression.

“A cat shouldn’t be physically able to throw another cat off while they are doing the chubby batter,” Rice told Ice, “I think that our friend isn’t a normal cat.” Ice gulped. He knew all too well about all of the different problems the strange cat had caused, and if this other cat was going to be that dangerous, they needed to be stopped quickly.

“I don’t know who would dare hurt Rice, but I’ll help Rudy find out who would!”

However, Ice knew something right away. He would need to be part of the fighters. No cat had seen Ice fight at his best. But this was the time.

Mavis, Harvey, and a couple of other wrestler cats were asked to meet at the thief cat’s house. Now they were also charged with assault. Ice told the cats of his mission plan and how he would need strong cats to pin the cat down when they were found. If they could throw off a cat during the chubby batter, they could probably overpower a wrestler. Even Harvey’s sitting tactic might fail. Probably not though.
