
CATS ILLUSTRATED

Judy's chubby forelegs outgrew Rudy's, or did they?

As of yesterday, May 8 2021, Judy's chubby forelegs outgrew Rudy's and just edged over Stripy's chubby forelegs as well. Judy is feeling quite triumphant, but Rudy is sitting in her house and crying silently because she feels like Judy has everything. A bigger house, and now larger chubby forelegs. Rudy's only leverage with Judy is the memory of the time that Judy fell into the toilet after forgetting to put the seat down. Rudy fumed and swore to no one in particular that she would tell everyone about that time.

Image above - Judy, who is feeling quite triumphant at the moment.

Judy, on the other hand, is feeling great. Cats have come from all around to congratulate her on her chubby forelegs' growth spurt. This can happen, even for adult cats. Harvey came with the intention of congratulating Judy but walked away after giving her a concerned look without the congratulations he had planned on giving. Judy thought with a sinking feeling that she knew that Harvey had read her mind, and found the thing that she had done wrong. And that was when Judy got a call from an angry Rudy, demanding a fight. Judy agreed and even added in a sunglasses face for good measure. Naya, who is reading this, tells me that she is proud of Judy.

As Rudy and Judy went to fight, Harvey ran as fast as he could (you'd think he wouldn't be very fast, until he out distanced you) to Stripy's house, and told her the bitter truth. Judy had somehow made her chubby forelegs seem larger, but they hadn't grown at all. In fact, Rudy's chubby forelegs had a small growth in the night. Judy was faking, and Harvey and Stripy had to stop her before she fought Rudy. However, it might be too late.

Rudy met Judy in the park. They stood at opposite sides, and on the count of 3, they charged at each other. Judy built up a strong momentum, even for her larger chubby forelegs, but it was nothing compared to Rudy's raged charge. When they were about to meet, Rudy and Judy jumped up, and their chubby forelegs connected. Judy's chubby foreleg felt strange - as if it were an outer

"It seems we were too late getting to the park - Rudy and Judy fought."

- HARVEY, WHO'S AT LEAST SATISFIED THAT THE PROBLEM WAS MOSTLY WORKED OUT

her furless belly, which had goosebumps from the cold. Rudy felt like slicing it open at this point.

Subscribe again for more on Rudy's rage!

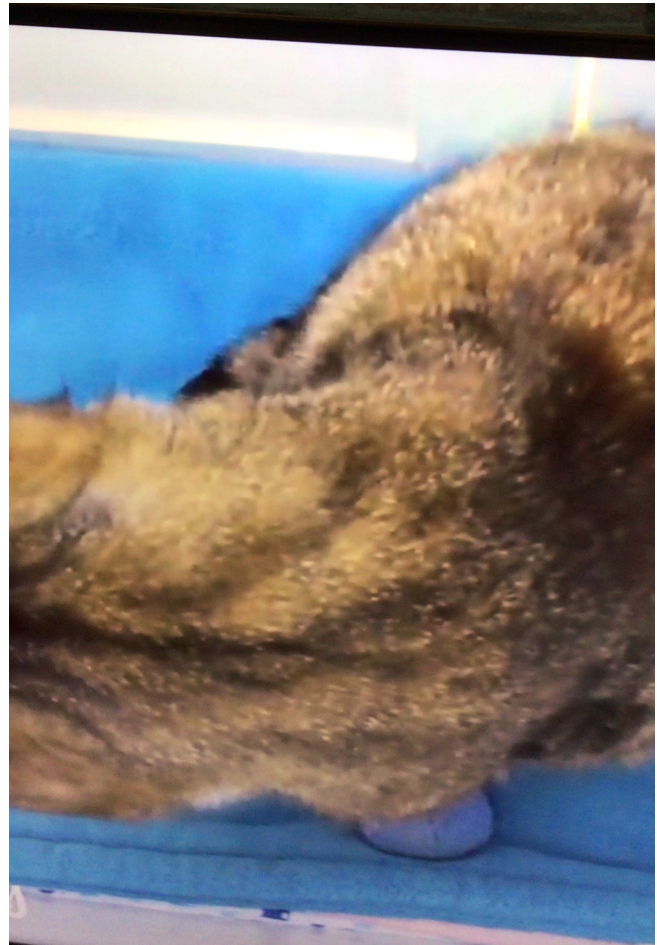

Image above - Harvey, who is rushing as fast as he can to get to the park with Stripy.

skin. Then, Rudy saw the seam. She used her teeth, and ripped it out of Judy's chubby foreleg. Without looking at her work, Rudy did the same for the other chubby foreleg. Judy wailed in pain, but Rudy was too mad as Judy's fake chubby forelegs fell off to reveal the real ones, which were just as small as they used to be. "How - How did you get the right color fur for your chubby foreleg?" Rudy asked, still in disbelief. "Um..." Judy started, "I shaved my belly." And with that, Judy rolled over to show