

---

CATS ILLUSTRATED

---

Rudy and Judy are about to fight!

As Judy and her kittens advanced toward Rudy, her kittens, and Judy's car, Rudy and her kittens got into position. Rudy jr. was already at the gunner's chair, and Ghost and Phantom were on opposite sides of the road, bows and arrows ready. Blackspots jr. had made a system that could trigger a small explosion in Judy's car, and was hiding out under the front seats, ready to trigger it. Gingerbread was hefting a small sword, which they were surprisingly adept at swinging around. Rudy was armed with a mighty club, a breastplate, and a shield. Suddenly, Judy's kittens sped up their approach into a charge. May and Maxine stayed near the back with their bows and arrows, nocked and ready to shoot. Sir Maximus jr. and Blackfur held axes, while Judy jr. has a mace and chain. Judy, the leader of the charge, had a breastplate, a shield, and a massive war axe. Hazel, the last of Judy's kittens, was sitting in the distance, refusing to fight. She thought that Judy and Rudy could have a grudge, but they shouldn't take it out on each other physically.

Image above - Judy, who is dreaming about that particular fight with Rudy.

---

When Maxine and May got in range, Ghost and Phantom let arrows fly. With the element of surprise on their side, Ghost's arrow took Maxine in her chubby foreleg, spinning her off balance and onto the side of the road. She didn't get up again. Phantom's arrow just missed May. With a snarl, May loosed 2 arrows in rapid succession, at the spots that she thought Ghost and Phantom were at. They were ducked behind barricades, with eye holes to see out. The arrows thudded into the wooden barricades. Meanwhile, in the front of the pack, Judy jr. and Gingerbread had gone into single combat. Judy jr. was launching powerful, crushing blows at Gingerbread with her mace and chain. Gingerbread, knowing that their sword wouldn't be able to parry the spiked ball of the mace and chain, deflected it instead. The ball was going every which way, and Blackfur had to deflect it with his axe when it got too close. And, when the ball was out of control, Gingerbread leapt closer to Judy jr., opened up a few cuts and wounds, and then shoved her to the ground. Judy jr. whimpered and ran off.

“Ice, Rice, and Rice jr. are far gone by now, and Judy's car is broken!”

- HAZEL, WHO IS STARTING TO UNDERSTAND THE DIRENESS OF THIS SITUATION

Judy was trapped at the moment. Ghost and Phantom were quickly coming out of their barricades and loosing arrows at her too fast for May to shoot back. Also, Gingerbread was darting in and out with their sword, and had opened up a few cuts on Judy's back and front legs. Meanwhile, Blackspots jr. had lured Blackfur into the car, and pressed the button to explode the front panels. Blackfur was instantly unconscious, and Blackspots began to set up the mechanism again.

Subscribe again for more on this fight!

Image above - Rudy and her kittens, in their bonding time.