Rudy and Judy are still fighting!

Now, after some fighting, Judy's numbers had dwindled. Maxine was out with an arrow wound in her chubby foreleg, which Hazel was treating. Blackfur was unconscious in Judy's broken minivan, from the explosion that Blackspots jr. had set up. Judy jr. had been brutally cut and beaten by Gingerbread, and that just left May and Sir Maximus the second to fight, along with Judy. However, Judy was still tied up with Gingerbread, Ghost and Phantom. An arrow had grazed Judy on her chubby foreleg, hurting a lot and leaking blood. Suddenly, the arrow fire shifted to May, who was caught by surprise. The first 2 arrows caught her thin hind legs, an arrow a leg, and the next 2 caught her chubby forelegs. May couldn't walk temporarily now, let alone shoot an arrow. That left Sir Maximus the second. He was the strongest fighter of her kittens here, Judy thought. Ice was stronger, but he wasn't there right now. Sir Maximus the second was wielding a mighty war axe, not quite as large as Judy's but large none the less. He also had a 3 foot tall circular shield. Sir Maximus the second was the best armed of all of her kittens, Judy thought. He'll put up a good fight.

Judy would have been right, if she had already remembered and planned to disable her cannon. Rudy jr. had the force set at the minimum, but when she shot the iron ball and Sir Maximus the second, it still traveled very fast. Sir Maximus the second raised his shield and swung his axe at the same time toward the cannonball, deflecting it ever so slightly with a mighty blow of his axe. However, the cannonball still impacted with his shield, slamming Sir Maximus the second to the ground. The shield shattered not a moment after, and Sir Maximus the second was left unconscious. Judy gawked at Sir Maximus the second's unconscious body. She had never seen anybody survive a flying cannonball quite like that. But seeing her last fighting kitten down put Judy into a rage that no cat could contain. She flung down her shield and charged at Ghost's hiding spot. He rained Judy with arrows, hitting her 2 times in each chubby foreleg and even once in the back. However, Judy slammed down her axe on his wooden barricade, and hit Ghost on the side of the head with the flat of her axe blade. Ghost was instantly unconscious. Phantom yelled a battle cry and shot a shower of arrows at Judy, including one special one with poison on the tip. All of the 10 arrows imbedded, and Judy staggered, blood flowing from over a dozen separate wounds. Phantom fell at the flat of Judy's axe blade, but not before stabbing a knife into Judy's left thin hind leg. Judy ripped out all the arrows, leaving a bloody trail in her wake. Then, Judy targeted her minivan, with Blackspots jr. and Rudy jr. inside.
