

CATS ILLUSTRATED

The fight with the bird/thief cat has continued!

As Lunch, Jake, and Lunch's kittens got ready to go out and fight, the fight with the bird/thief cat continued. 10 cats had just been launched out of cannons, and were flying through the air. Mavis and Harvey, 2 of the ten cats in the air, had their weapons ready and pointing forward. The cats, Mavis, Harvey, Rudy, Judy, Juliet, Naya, Stripy, Ice, Rice, and Rice jr. struck the bird/thief cat with considerable force, and when their gripping swords broke the skin of the bird/thief cat, it noticed and screeched, "you wanna ride? You wouldn't last a minute!!" The cats nodded grimly, swords still stuck into the bird/thief cat, as paw holds or chubby holds. The bird/thief cat twisted upside down and then right side up again, but the cats on its back just held its many beating wings and their grip swords. As soon as the bird/thief cat got back upright again though, the cats started hacking like mad with their other weapons at whatever part of the bird/thief cat they had landed on. However, when the bird/thief cat did sharp loops and turns, the cats stopped hacking and held onto their gripping swords.

Image above - Lunch, who's taking a last minute rest before going out with Jake and her kittens to join the fight.

The bird/thief cat was getting very annoyed. But when Rudy and Judy found a spot where their skin was weaker, the bird/thief cat could take it no more. With a mad screech, they dove toward the hospital building. If they couldn't defeat the cats, the bird/thief could take a whole lot of cats along with them in death. Rudy and Judy saw this first and jumped off the bird/thief cat. Ice, Rice, and Rice jr. followed suit, just before Naya and Stripy made their jumps. Juliet jumped, but carefully. Mavis jumped, and then, closing his eyes tightly shut, Harvey jumped too. Even with his parachute, it took Harvey much shorter to fall gracefully back to the ground.

Image above - Harvey, who had been afraid his parachute wouldn't support him.

The bird/thief cat realized what the cats had done a moment to late to do any serious turning. They tried to flap back around with their many wings, but only managed to slow their dive. The bird/thief cat flapped harder, and faster, and stronger, but still hit the hospital with a resounding smack. The bird/thief cat fell down to reveal a large spiral of cracks, where they had hit the hard concrete of the hospital building. Luckily, the front wing had been evacuated of all patients. As the bird/thief cat fell down, barely conscious, 5 cat teams looped giant chains around them, and then sat near the chain handles, ready to grab them to restrain the bird/thief cat. It was at this moment that Lunch arrived, with Jake and her kittens.

“Why do Lunch, Jake, and Lunch’s kittens get a special mission?”

- JULIET, BLACKPELT, AND JULIET’S KITTENS

They checked in with Harvey, and then headed up the hospital stairs, with a mission in mind.

Subscribe again for the final fight with the bird/thief cat!