CATS ILLUSTRATED

Cats are relaxing now that the thief cat is gone!

Since the bird/thief cat was killed, cats have relaxed. There is no immediate threat, and that has made many cats happy and relieved. The thief cat, the strange cat, all scary experiences. Now, cats are just looking forward to a good summer, free of scary cats.

Since there is not fighting needed, cats have started pursuing other interesting things. Naya, surprisingly, is taking a class on law. It seems, that maybe, Naya the thief will become Naya the lawyer. It would be an amazing transformation, from breaking the law to possibly defending it. Mavis, on the other time, has opened up a food stand with her kittens. They sell cool drinks on hot days, and warm soup on cold days. Stripy has taught Mavis the art of casserole making, and Mavis now sells “mystery ingredient casserole” which is basically casserole with lots of cabbage. However, for some reason, cats have not guessed cabbage as the mystery ingredient yet. Mavis is trying out the idea of making homemade potato chips to sell, but didn’t actually sell any because her kittens got at the chips before the customers.

Stripy’s casserole cooking show on catTube has just finished its 5th season, but at the end of the last episode, Stripy told her viewers that she would be taking a break from cooking to try something else. Cats have been wondering what this is, because Stripy’s channel on catTube has over 600 thousand subscribers. Stripy’s casserole cooking show is sometimes watched by a million or more cats. Well, Stripy surprised everyone when she told cats that she was going skiing. Her first video went viral, because cats live for seeing other cats fall in the snow. However, Stripy has come back to the ski resort a couple more times now, and has filmed some pretty good videos.

Judy’s spike of subscribers on catTube has come to an end. At the best, she had 1 million subscribers. Now, Judy is down to 100. She has been trying to convince her kittens to make catTube videos with her, but none of her kittens want to get on Judy’s back and pretend to ride a bull.

“Rudy’s doing much better than I am on catTube- but what’s wrong with my videos?”

- JUDY, WHO’S GENUINELY CONFUSED

Capple Music. Because now that the thief cat is gone, cats can pursue what they want.

Rudy however, has been experimenting with making music videos. Her kittens love to help her with that, and Rudy’s catTube channel is slowly starting to gain subscribers. Rudy has made her own music videos of some of the songs from the movie Pirates of the Catribbean, and other assorted songs on
