
CATS ILLUSTRATED

Yesterday was Father's Day!

Aside from bombings and other mishaps, yesterday was a very good day for father cats. It was Father's Day! Many father cats had very good days yesterday.

"Aside from the news that 2 more places had been bombed and the fact that my house is literally wrecked, it was a very good Father's Day," Blackpelt commented, mate of Juliet and father of 6 kittens, "I got some chocolate, and I also got a coupon for one special repair job on anything I wanted in my house. I picked the roof." Blackpelt is just one of a couple father cats who have had their houses bombed.

Image above - Wesley, Buttercup's mate and a proud father.

Jake, the mate of Lunch and the father of 6 kittens, has some thoughts, “I didn’t get many gifts,” he has noted, “but I got something a whole lot better. Lunch gave me a coupon for one all you can eat meal at her Luncheon. That is a valuable coupon, all right. And all in all, I had a very good day indeed.” However, Lunch knows that her Luncheon might be targeted by the bomber cat in the future. She has put aside a little money for repairs just in case, and is going to install some extra protection on the roof. Lunch will have to wait to make a patio with open air seating.

Harvey, another father cat, had a very good day. “I had 3 big meals,” Harvey has emphasized, “one at 6 in the morning, the next at 12 in the afternoon, and the last one at 6 in the evening. Each were large and hearty. North was full by lunch, and passed any food at dinner. Is he trying to starve himself? Or do I just have a very large stomach?” Harvey is puzzling this over, and also eating some of the sugar cubes he recieved for Father’s Day. A pack of 1,000 has been reduced to a pack of 847 by Harvey overnight. However, he did have a very good day.

Image above - Harvey and North, sharing some time on Father’s Day.

“How come I didn’t get interviewed?”

- MAX, JUDY’S MATE AND THE FATHER OF 7 KITTENS;

Blackspots, Rudy’s mate and the father of 6 kittens, also had a very good Father’s Day. “Rudy took me to a very special library,” Blackspots as said, “I spent a few hours there reading. Then, I went back home to my kittens for a few gifts. I got a reading light, and does that mean my kittens know that I’ve been borrowing their lights? I hope not, but my day was definitely top notch. Oh - and Rudy, however much she hates cooking, made something quite acceptable for Father’s Day and for me.” Blackspots and many other fathers have had very good days, as they should have on Father’s Day. Also, give a shout out to Grinnell, a father, if you pass by the Campanelle tower.

Subscribe again for bad times!