Rudy and Judy are fighting!

No one quite knows why, but ever since Judy recovered from her depression, Judy has been more aggressive than before. One time in the supermarket parking lot, she honked her horn really loud at an old cat who was in the way. The poor cat dropped their groceries, and Judy just cursed and decided to back up out of the parking lot a different way. Judy's kittens were appalled, and told Max. Max had a talk with Judy, and from outside their bedroom, Judy's kittens could hear cursing and raised voices. And today, Judy went over to Rudy's house and spray painted a bad face on the door. Rudy was sad, as that door was a special one that she had specially installed because it was the door to her house when she was very young, a kitten. Rudy paid a lot to get it restored, but had to sell one of her vases to do it. Poor Rudy was really sad, and mad when Judy knocked on her door, picked the lock and came in, and then confessed to spray painting the door. Rudy got furious, and ordered her kittens to attack. Judy tried to run, but Rudy jr. tripped up Judy. Judy fell on her belly, and kicked Rudy jr. away with her chubby foreleg. Rudy jr. gasped for air, and Blackspots rushed in, playing medic.

Rudy roared and leaped at Judy. Rudy tackled Judy, and Rudy's kittens pummeled Judy with their chubby forelegs. Judy threw off all of the kittens, where they skidded to the floor. Only one got back up, as the others were unconscious or stunned. Rudy roared even louder, and slammed Judy against the wall. Judy went limp, unconscious. Rudy took Judy's body outside and dumped it in a dumpster. Judy would be with the trash she was.

This first fight would no doubt spark more. No cat knows for sure why Rudy and Judy are fighting again, but it is getting serious. When Judy woke up in the dumpster, a by standing cat heard her swear that she would kill Rudy. The cat called the cops, where they confronted Judy and asked her what she meant. Judy claimed that it was part of this new super interactive video game, and the police believed her. However, when Rudy heard this, she took it as a challenge. She stocked up on shelf stable food, set up some crops in a bulletproof greenhouse, and armored up her house. Soon, Rudy’s house was the only one on her street with a bulletproof greenhouse in the back that connected to the main part of Rudy’s house. There were fake gun holes everywhere, and Rudy had fashioned long sabers, spears, and equipped Blackspots with “medic’s armor”. Rudy had a breastplate, a helmet, and a tail guard, ending in a spiked barb. She held the massive war ax that had defeated Judy before, and was ready for battle.
