Rudy is preparing for a war - that she provoked!

After sending one of her kittens with a paintball gun to paint and damage the windows of Judy's house, Rudy and her kittens are ready for war. Rudy feels ready, but her kittens don't feel very proud of their mama for provoking a possibly bloody war. However, Rudy was determined, and called her kittens in sick to the school. She made Blackspots help her roll out spiked tarps on the roof, and had him read her kittens a book of chivalrous war cries to supposedly get them riled up. Blackspots might not have done what Rudy wanted, though, as he couldn't even understand some of them, making him and Rudy's kittens laugh. Meanwhile, Rudy set up spokes in the yard, and buried the ends deep. She reinforced the walls with extra metal, and made sure there were a few gun holes just in case. Rudy had put up cameras all over, and settled down in the basement to watch them. Meanwhile, Blackspots and his kittens had fun.

After some talking, Blackspots and his kittens made a plan. They didn't want to fight in this war, and they decided to send Blackspots and Blackspots jr. as messengers. They were the 2 most harmless looking cats in the house, as Judy and her kittens would probably open fire if they saw Rudy. Blackspots and Blackspots jr. went outside, while Rudy's other kittens kept Rudy distracted in the basement. However, Blackspots and Blackspots jr.'s plan was going very well. They had just reached Judy's house, waving a white flag. Judy jr. came out to escort them in, and they were on the bargaining table. "What do you want?" Judy asked in a mad tone, as she was very mad at Rudy, Blackspots, and their kittens. "We want to stop this war." Blackspots told Judy, Blackspots jr. nodding. "Rudy unwisely provoked it, and we don't want to fight." One of Judy's kittens laughed. "How would you take back the damage to our house and our windows from that paintball attack? How?" "I don't know yet," Blackspots responded, "but we'll fix it." "I don't know about that," Judy said, and punched Blackspots in the head. He fell down, unconscious. Blackspots jr. tried to run, but one of Judy's kittens hit him in the stomach. Blackspots jr. collapsed, defeated.

Rudy's kittens were forced to tell Rudy what they had done when Blackspots and Blackspots jr. did not return. Rudy was mad, but scared when she got the ransom call for Judy. Rudy armored up, along with her kittens. This time, they were aiming to hurt. Rudy had a massive hammer and axe, for breaking windows and doors. Rudy's kittens had an assortment of different armor and weapons, from plain wooden shields to high tech sniper rifles.
