Rudy has gotten a messy revenge!

Last issue, we left off at a cliffhanger. Judy saw something in the bathroom, but what? Well, as revenge for getting her arrested, Rudy filled Judy's bathtub with water, after breaking in, and poured in a bucket of manure. Judy heard another scream, to find the other bathroom the same way. There was no way that Judy, Max, or any of their kittens would want to take a shower in the near future.

Some cats are wondering why Rudy chose to dump a bucket of manure in both of Judy's bathtubs. It's a good revenge, but a bit petty. However, Judy is furious with Rudy, and may have to use public showers and bathrooms for the next week or so - the whole bathroom smells like a bad indoor animal barn. Judy is calling a plumber, because she doesn't know who else to call to get rid of the poop in both of her bathrooms, but the plumber refused to take the job. Judy settled eventually on making her kittens relay buckets out of the house. When the main poop was gone, and Judy's kittens were pissed off at doing smelly, hard work while their mama played video games, so when Judy told them to clean the bathtub, Judy's kittens picked her up and carried her on their backs to the bathroom. They dumped her in, and then threw in bathtub cleaning supplies. They locked the door and then looked for Max, who was wisely already cleaning the other bathroom.

Max made quick work of one bathroom, and put in some air fresheners. Judy sat sulking in her bathroom, but she wasn't brought any food or let out, and eventually started cleaning the other bathtub. Rudy will pay for this, Judy thought, Rudy will pay. However, Rudy did pay for something - a car repair. Her car has just left the shop, and is now in good condition. Rudy is happy that she has a working car again, and doesn't have to borrow Juliet's car anymore. Judy is not happy, because now she can't make any more bad comments about Rudy's car.

While most cats feel like Rudy and Judy's fight is petty, Naya has been very intrigued at actually clapped her paws in delight when she read the last issue. Naya loves to read about fighting, especially when it happens for real. Naya has confided in both Rudy and Judy ways that they can get back at each other that might not be the best of things to do. 1 of these things includes tainting the other's food, with something that won't hurt them but will make them violently sick for an hour. That is crossing a line though, for both Rudy and Judy. They shudder to know that Naya does things like that.
