
CATS ILLUSTRATED

The final round of the tournament has officially begun!

While last issue was just setting the scene, this issue is actually about the video gaming. The 20 teams have officially started up their games, though nothing very interesting will happen in this first half hour or so. In the end, Juliet chose to participate in the final round of the video game contest, because otherwise her team would be disqualified. She is doing well in the game, but might have slow reactions to an attack. Juliet is currently inside her team's war base, crafting weapons.

Image above - Juliet, who in the end decided to participate in the final round of the video game contest.

No teams have been eliminated yet, but some teams have been building very large weapons. Stripy and her team bought extra base space and have been building something very large - Jake and his team seem to be making a bomb factory. Rudy and her team have hundreds of rounds of ammunition. Judy and her team have more axes and swords than could be counted. Another team has a special war tank. Some teams have fleets of war Jeeps. This is not the qualifying round anymore - teams will be going all out.

While teams get set up for the final battle, Mavis and Naya's kittens have caused quite a racket. They were so sad and angry that Mavis and Naya chose not to participate, but that sadness has dissolved into anger. Mavis hasn't had a cabbage in 16 hours, and Naya's wallet can't be found. Mavis's kittens are in their room with the door locked, plotting their next move. Naya's kittens are in a similar situation, but have weapons stolen from Naya's private stash. They also have 10 gum balls - they're hard and easy to throw. But right now, Mavis and Naya don't know what to do. When Mavis tries to go out to the store to get cabbages, something has gone missing or something is messed up by the time she gets back. And while Mavis searches or cleans up, her cabbages go missing. Mavis has thought about gassing her kittens bedroom, so at least they will be asleep. Mavis had to remind herself that gassing the bedroom of kittens was probably against the law. However, Mavis must be getting pretty desperate if she thought of that.

Image above - Judy, who's going to snipe Rudy when she has the weapons for it.

“In the game, Harvey made a war Jeep - I'm a bit afraid to see what it can do.”

- NORTH

Now, back in the subject of video games, some interesting things have happened. A couple teams were eliminated, but there was no sign of an attack - just dead bodies of characters inside their war base. This wasn't plague - this was some sort of spirit. And, as a sneak peek, there was only 1 team that had prepared for this kind of attack. However, most of the teams were confused about why 3 other teams had suddenly been eliminated, which gave that one fully prepared team an advantage.

Subscribe again for more on this final round!