
CATS ILLUSTRATED

Naya has provoked a fight!

As Naya seems to think that there is nothing interesting going on right now, she dug up an old list of bad words with equal signs next to Rudy's name. The list must have been at least a year old, but when Naya mailed it to Rudy, it sparked fury. Rudy stormed over to Judy's house, clenching the list, and shoved it in Judy's face. Judy let out a giggle, but stifled it when Rudy looked her in the eye. Rudy tossed a ball at one of Judy's windows. It shattered. "Park. Noon. Be ready." Rudy stormed away after that.

Image above - Rudy, who is mad at Judy right now.

For those of you who don't know what Rudy meant, Rudy and Judy have a special way of fighting. They both think that fighting wherever the argument happened is beneath them, and will only do it as a last resort.

However, when they are just furious mad, Rudy or Judy will organize a time and a place to fight. It is usually in public, which is not a particularly good thing. However, both Rudy and Judy call spectators and try to get them to watch.

When Rudy and Judy arrived at the park at noon on the dot, the only cat there was Naya, who had a big bag of popcorn and a Rudy sign on her right paw, and a Judy sign on her left paw. Naya waved the Rudy sign, and Judy glared. Naya then waved the Judy sign, and Rudy growled. Then Naya waved them together, clapping them together as if the signs were fighting. That was Rudy and Judys' cue. They leapt at each other, starting to tussle.

Rudy had the upper paw at first, pinning Judy to the ground. But a kick from Judy to the groin sent Rudy sprawling, and Judy pinned Rudy down. Rudy tried to push Judy off, but Judy stayed strong, pinning Rudy down. However, Rudy spat in Judy's face and kicked up, pulling Judy up and slamming her against a tree. Judy was seeing stars, so she didn't fight back when Rudy tied her to the tree. Rudy climbed up the tree, and then did something that made even Naya gasp. Rudy relieved herself (number one, not number two), showering Judy in well - you know what. Judy shrieked, and Rudy ran away. Judy cursed Rudy, ripping off her bonds and jumping into the pond near her. It wasn't technically for cats, but Judy didn't care. She needed to wash the you-know-what off.

Naya had a video camera with her, and filmed the whole last part. She posted it on catTube, where it has been on the top of trending. The video is called "the pee monster strikes," and Rudy has gotten some new nicknames along with Judy, who is only known as "the victim." However, Judy will be getting Rudy back, no doubt. Judy will tie Rudy to a tree and then - (censored).

Subscribe again for more on this fight!

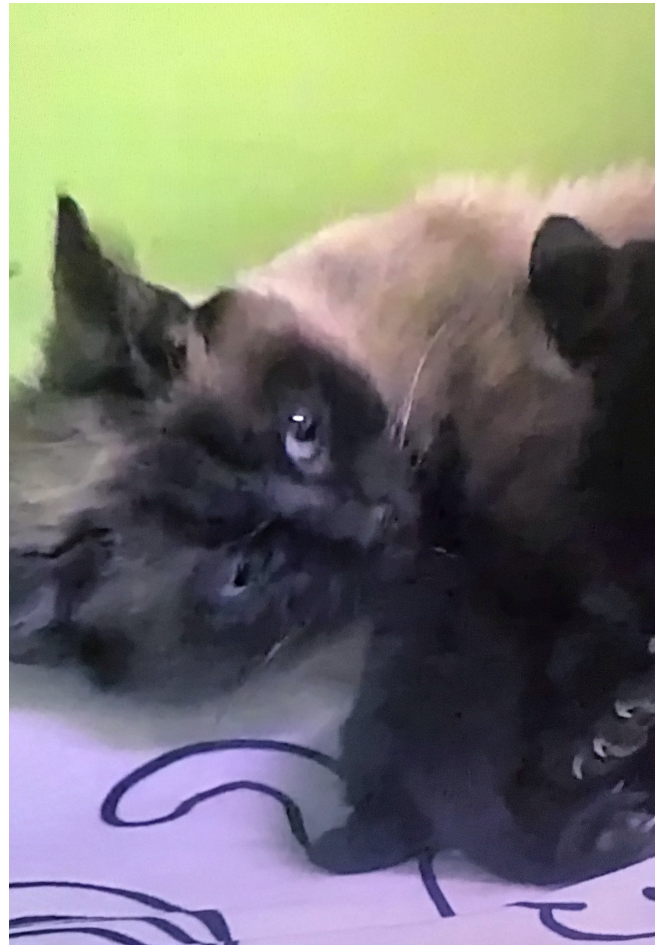

Image above - Lunch, who sort of a little bit wants to watch Rudy and Judy fight.

"I thought censoring was for inappropriate videos - Judy must have said something bad!"

- HARVEY