Juliet and Blackpelt are fighting!

In recent days, Juliet and Blackpelt have been at each other's necks. Juliet's kittens are growing tired of all of this fighting, but have been happy because they get to play video games all day without an interruption from Juliet or Blackpelt telling them to take a break.

Up to now, we thought that Juliet and Blackpelt had a good relationship, but now we are realizing how tense things actually are. Juliet is worried about the money Blackpelt spends on studies, and Blackpelt is worried that Juliet has been sneaking out for Kudo's again. Unfortunately, as there are uncertain times centering around the fact that there is a small war going on in cities nearby, Juliet and Blackpelt have started making accusations. We have bribed Juliet's kittens, who have installed a microphone that will capture Juliet and Blackpelt's argument. Let's listen to some of it.

"Are your studies that important? We need that money more for renovations and repairs and then some in store for if there is an emergency!" Juliet is shouting, and it is coming out quite loud from the microphone. Blackpelt scoffed, "says the cat who is still addicted to the junkiest snack there is." Juliet sputtered, trying to find words, "so you don't care about our house? What if there is a hurricane and our roof is blown off? What will happen to the kittens?" Oof. If Juliet is referring to her kittens as "the kittens" instead of "our kittens" this fight is very bad. "I think you've been spending a little too much," Blackpelt accused, "and I've noticed some empty Kudo's bags in the trash. I guess you're an addict after all." Darn. Good one Blackpelt.

This fight has been raging on and on since yesterday, and Lunch whisked Juliet's kittens away to help at the Luncheon. The kittens got free soda for cleaning and serving at Lunch's Luncheon, and deemed the experience a good one. However, they, too, are concerned about their parents fighting about silly stuff like this.

"We're honored you call it that."

- RUDY AND JUDY, COMMENTING ON THE DESCRIPTION "A RUDY AND JUDY FIGHT"

Here is another recording of Juliet and Blackpelt's fight. "You just care about yourself and nothing else," Blackpelt is saying, "you're a selfish, small brained cat." Oh dang. This is turning into a Rudy and Judy fight. "Sometimes I wonder," Juliet retorted, "whether you're the right cat for me after all." Blackpelt tilted his chin up (we don't know this, but we can guess), "Okay, if you want it like that, I'm moving out."

Juliet snorted, "Fine." Blackpelt snorted back, "fine," And then he stomped off. Oh shoot, that was a pretty bad thing to catch on camera. At least it will be a popular news topic.
