
CATS ILLUSTRATED

Rudy has bought a new house!

Now, after some serious saving, Rudy has bought a new house! Her sisters are very happy for her, and Rudy is proud of her new house. Judy however, is not.

Image above - Judy, who is sad that now Rudy has a house as large as hers.

Judy was seen crying in her room, and when Max asked her why, Judy told Max that now that Rudy has an equal sized house and larger chubby forelegs, Rudy would be the dominant one. Max told Judy that she could dominate, too, and that inspired Judy to start saving up for a super fancy car. A car that Rudy could never get. Rudy is scoffing as she reads this, and is commenting about how Judy is already thirty grand in the hole.

We are wondering where the money to get the house came from, and Blackspots has told us that Rudy has been saving up, and that her new book was a hit nationally. Cats enjoyed reading it, and it has been selling well. Us, not being depicted well in the book, have been getting many complaints and fewer donations. I guess that comes with the job. However, we really do not want to resort to tripping Judy so that we are depicted as helpful in Rudy's book, because that is crossing a line. But right now, one of our reporters is getting a tour of Rudy's new house.

Rudy now has a two floored house, 2 bathrooms, a large kitchen, a study for Blackspots, and in the backyard, an outdoor pool under an awning. Rudy has been setting up beach umbrellas, and her kittens are already frolicking in their new pool. Blackspots has been moving a lot of his stuff into his new study, and Rudy has been getting the rest from her house, including the metal plates that she used as armor, which will be stored in the basement. Rudy is selling her house at a very affordable price, and has gotten many buying offers.

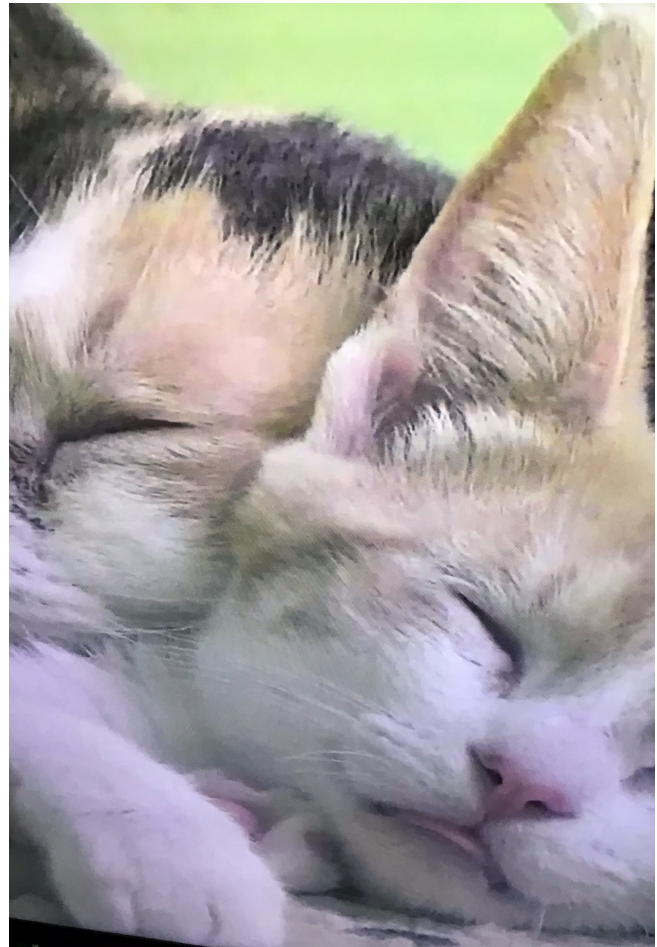

Image above - Rudy and Ghost, relaxing.

“I’ve sent my kittens over to Rudy’s house with orders to pee in her pool.”

- JUDY

Even Juliet and Blackpelt came to congratulate Rudy, even though Blackspots had moved out and was renting a one bedroom apartment. He and Juliet were tense at the moment, but their kittens were distressed, as they had three kitten shifts at each house. Stripy has been talking to both Juliet and Blackpelt, trying to help them work out their troubles. Harvey, too, has put some effort in, and sang a jaunty and uplifting song for Juliet about the wonders of sugar and how it could bring back relationships. However, hopefully seeing Rudy's new house will do them some good. We congratulated Rudy on her new house as well, but with a certain amount of resentment.

Subscribe again for more on Rudy's new house!