
CATS ILLUSTRATED

Harvey and North are taking a trip to Egypt!

As North is going on a very special business trip to Egypt, he will be gone for the next week. Harvey is tagging along, to see new sights and eat new sugar cubes. Makenna wanted to come so she could keep an eye on Harvey, but Behavior and Co., the company North works for, only allowed one guest cat to come with him. We will miss Harvey and North for the week that they are gone, but when they come back, we will have a story published about their trip, North supplying the events and us the writing.

Image above - Harvey thinking about what Egypt will be like.

Rudy and Judy have varying thoughts on Egypt. Judy thinks it would be cool to go there to try street food, play games, listen to music, and stay up late in dance clubs. Rudy thinks that the fun part of Egypt would be touring The Great Pyramid of Giza and observing historic relics. Rudy thinks that Judy's idea would just be goofing off at a base level, and Judy thinks that Rudy's idea would be very dull and boring.

Harvey has packed sunglasses, as he has read that it is very sunny in Egypt. He has a small stash of sugar cubes he will be bringing, and a casserole from Stripy to share with North on the two plane rides, total time on the plane equaling nearly twenty hours. Harvey has brought a sleep mask, and North is carrying his favorite pillow. It will be a long flight, one that will involve some sleeping.

North and Harvey are happy to get out of Pawsville at least for a little, because it is springtime in Egypt, so it will be much warmer than Pawsville. North will be taking many photos, because he wants any cat viewing his and Harvey's trip slideshow to feel like they were in Egypt itself. This is North's first international experience, and he is very excited. Harvey has travelled internationally before, when he took a plane to Turkey to get some very special sugar cubes indeed.

Image above - Lunch, who has some frozen sugar fries that she will be giving Harvey before he leaves for Egypt with North.

Mavis is wondering if North or Harvey could bring her back a cabbage from Egypt, because she has heard that cabbages from Egypt taste amazing. North politely declined, as he isn't sure he'll have any space in his suitcase or pack for anything, let alone a cabbage. Mavis was a bit disappointed, but knew that someday, she'd go to Egypt and buy a cabbage there herself.

“I bet kittens in Egypt can drink beer all they want!”

- JULIET'S KITTENS, FANTASIZING

As North and Harvey prepare for their trip, we have been thinking whether or not we should send a reporter along with them. It would cost quite a bit for the flight there and the return flight, and our bank account is not particularly large at all.

Subscribe again for more on Egypt!