Cats are celebrating Naya's birthday!

Right now, Naya's birthday is being celebrated by many cats. Mavis, Naya, Stripy, Rudy, and Judy were all born within hours of each other, so they will each be celebrated on a different day. Today is Naya's special day, and cats are wondering how it will play out.

Naya chose The Wish for Fish to be her birthday party caterer, and cats made errands there to pickup bags and bags of fish sandwiches, fish sticks, and beer battered fish. Mavis is trying out her gifts that she recieved yesterday right now, and she has been having fun with her edible markers set as Mavis has always wanted to eat a pink cabbage - even if it just had pink edible marker on it. Mavis also recieved a high tech bell for her tricycle, so cats can hear when she is coming up behind them.

Cats have been wondering what Naya would want to do for her birthday. In the end, Naya has decided that she wants to hold a game of dodgeball in the woods, and cats are already going over there to set up. No cat knows for sure why Naya picked dodgeball, but we can guess that it is because Naya loves to throw things at other cats. However, Naya's activity choice was popular among kittens, and Rudy and Judy have been plotting against each other. Naya better be careful - this could turn into a full scale war.

Naya's birthday cake was made by Harvey and North, who have been working relentlessly to get it ready. However, they will have to do the same thing for three more days in a row, as Stripy, Rudy, and Judy all want a cake for their birthday parties, and Harvey and North are the only cats who know how to make one. Still, Harvey is thinking about getting Rudy or Judy or Stripy a store bought cake and claiming that he made it himself. I mean, you can only make so many cakes without being exhausted.

“Harvey took out seven kittens before getting hit - how is he this good?”

- NORTH, WHO IS REALLY PUZZLED

The big dodgeball game has started, and it is just as violent as we expected. Harvey has a very old right throwing paw, and has even nailed North, his son. Rudy and Judy are busy attacking each other, and Naya has been sitting in a tree and hurling balls at any cat who comes near the tree. Kittens have been plotting, and together, all thirty one of Mavis, Naya, Stripy, Rudy, Judy, and Lunch's kittens took over the battlefield. It was pretty scary, seeing that many kittens marching toward you, no traces of mercy in their eyes. Even Rudy and Judy stopped fighting and looked at their kittens, who looked right back, and then charged their mamas.
