
CATS ILLUSTRATED

Rudy is going on a road trip!

As she feels that she needs a break from Pawsville and its problems, Rudy is going on a week-long road trip with her kittens and Blackspots. She has rented a large camper for the ride, and her kittens are busy packing their stuff into it.

Image above - Rudy, who cannot wait for this road trip.

Because Rudy has six kittens, she has rented an extra large camper, with a bedroom in back and another bedroom that sticks up from the camper, giving kittens a good view of their surroundings. The first thing that Rudy's kittens packed was their video game console, and then came the snacks. However Rudy and Blackpelt have also been hard at work, mapping where they want to go and packing their own things as well. Rudy and Blackpelt will be in the driver and passenger seats of the camper for most of the time, but every once and a while one of them might go and check on their kittens.

Judy is not happy with Rudy right now, because she wanted to do a road trip first. Rudy thinks of this situation as “first come first serve,” but Judy still isn’t happy. So, Judy has decided that she also wants to take a road trip. But there is a space problem — all seven of her kittens can’t fit in one bedroom, and three-bedroom campers can be hard to find. But Judy has come up with a solution to this problem. She has a pickup truck, so she will rent one camper and one trailer to tow behind her pickup truck. Judy will drive the pickup truck, and Max will drive the camper, with some of their kittens in the camper, and the rest in the trailer.

The idea of a road trip has gotten Lunch thinking. She has always thought about getting a food truck for her Luncheon, but she has never gotten around to it. There would only be one or two employees besides Lunch, and it would be hard to pick favorites, but Lunch could also set up a schedule to give each employee a turn in the food truck. However, Lunch cannot seem to find many good trucks that would work for her, so this idea is still in the planning phase for now.

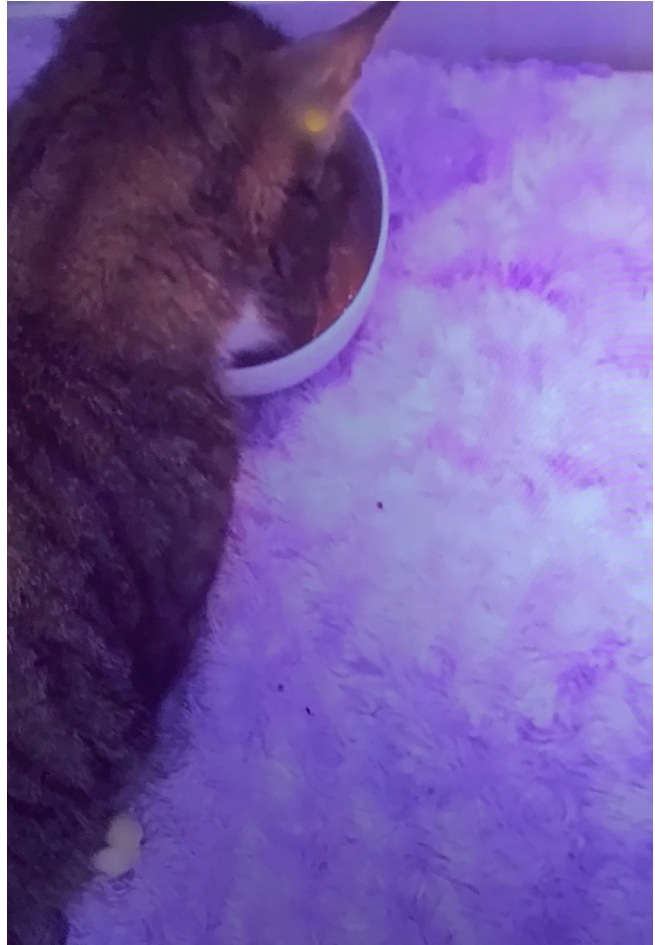

Image above - Harvey, who loves a good road trip.

“Going on this road trip means that we get a break from school!”

- RUDY’S KITTENS, DELIGHTED

excited to see these places, and are also excited to play video games nonstop during the long stretches on the road.

Rudy will be leaving for her road trip tomorrow, and she will be calling to tell us and other cats about how it is going and what sights she is seeing. Rudy will be on a diet of mostly fast food, but the occasional camper cooked meal might sneak its way in there. Rudy plans to go to a few museums, a famous pool, and “world renowned” restaurant, a water park, and an amusement park. Her kittens are very Subscribe again for more on road trips!