

---

CATS ILLUSTRATED

---

Cats are celebrating Harvey's contest win!

Right now, cats are celebrating Harvey's win and advancement in the potato chip eating contest! Other cats from Pawsville, like Lunch, Juliet, Judy, and others are disappointed that they didn't advance in the competition, but they are happy that Harvey did advance.

The state finals will be held in two days, where the best cats from each county participate. In Utah, only the top three cats in the state make it to the national competition, which has three rounds of eating, each one eliminating fifty cats from the playing field. But now for the prizes. Just for qualifying for the state championships, every participating cat gets a small bag of any flavor potato chips. It isn't much, but it's a nice bonus. For making it to the national competition, you get a small statue of a potato chip that reads "___ (cat's name) was in the national championship for potato chip eating!" Harvey and many other cats would enjoy having statue, as it would look nice on many dressers.

Image above - Juliet, who's unhappy that she didn't make it to the next round of the potato chip eating contest.

---

For the national prizes, each of the top ten cats gets a prize. Tenth to sixth place each get a year-long subscription to Potato Chips Weekly, where you can try an exotically flavored bag of potato chips every week. Fourth and fifth place get a small cash prize of $1,000, and three large bags of flavored chips. The third place prize is two tickets to a fancy cruise in the Pacific Ocean. The second place prize is a large cash prize of $5,000, and a new bike with a potato chip logo on the basket. And now, for first prize; That cat receives a brand new car, with the print "National Potato Chip Eating Champion" on it. The first place cat also receives free potato chips for life, in the form of a keycard that has a password on it that unlocks a website where you can get free potato chips. There is also a large cash prize of $10,000 included.

Image above - Harvey, who really wants a car that cats on the road will really notice.

The list of these prizes has just made cats even more excited for Harvey, as he would probably share his prizes with other cats. If Harvey somehow won free potato chips for life, Pawsville would have free potato chips for life. If Harvey got second, he would probably let kittens use his special bike. If Harvey got third, he'd have to think about who would go on the cruise with him.

"If you get first, could I have the cash prize?"

- NAYA, TALKING TO HARVEY

All of these options sound appealing, but Harvey will have some tough competition in these later rounds. For all we know, he may be eliminated in the state championships. But, if Harvey can make it to the nationals, the circumstances will start to change, and cats will start seriously thinking about the possibility that Harvey might win.

Subscribe again for the state championships!