
CATS ILLUSTRATED

Rudy and Judy are facing off!

In their current fight, Rudy and Judy have reached the point of a final showdown. All the kittens who had been fighting have dragged themselves away to a safe distance, where they can watch the fighting without needing to worry about getting hurt.

Image above - Juliet, who's glad that her kittens won't be in this final showdown.

Rudy and Judy are circling each other, waiting to see who will make the first move. In the end, Rudy lunges, club arcing toward Judy's armored side. Judy, who didn't expect such a blow, wasn't able to deflect the swing and took the hit to her side. She stumbled, then regained her balance. Judy had heavy armor, and that blow did not do much to hurt her. Judy charged at Rudy, mace arcing around her head to crash into Rudy's club, which Rudy brought up to parry the attack. Rudy swung a strong blow in return to Judy's side, which was deflected.

However, Rudy had an advantage. Judy was wearing heavy armor, so she couldn't dodge as fast. Rudy swung her club again at the spot where she had first hit Judy, as it might be sore. Judy tried to sidestep, but she wasn't fast enough and the club caught a glancing blow on her side. Judy cringed but charged at Rudy, rage in her eyes. Rudy had very light armor, so when Judy's mace swung into her leg, Rudy buckled at the hit. She screamed in rage, sweeping her club at Judy's legs in return. Judy flopped onto the ground, where Rudy gave her a massive blow to the back. Judy stood up shakily, and swung her club at Rudy's face. Rudy brought her club up to block the strike, but the pure force of the mace brought her own club to her cheek.

Rudy was growling now, as she attacked Judy again and again, raining the blows down. She didn't even try to parry when Judy snuck in hits to her side, her leg, and her stomach. Kittens were watching excitedly from the sidelines, as this was turning out to be a pretty entertaining fight. Naya was taking bets, picking the pockets of distracted kittens in the process. But the real attraction was Rudy and Judy. They were trading blows, each one stronger and more fierce than the last.

“Come on, keep fighting! I want to film it this time!”

- NAYA, TALKING TO RUDY AND JUDY

Then, Judy made a big mistake. Instead of striking at Rudy, she turned toward Rudy's house and brought her mace around at one of the windows. The glass shattered, and Rudy shouted in anger. She planted her paws down in the ground and brought her club into Judy's stomach with incredible force, picking her up off of the ground and letting her fall in a heap. Then, Rudy collapsed. The fight was over now.

Subscribe again for the aftermath of this fight!

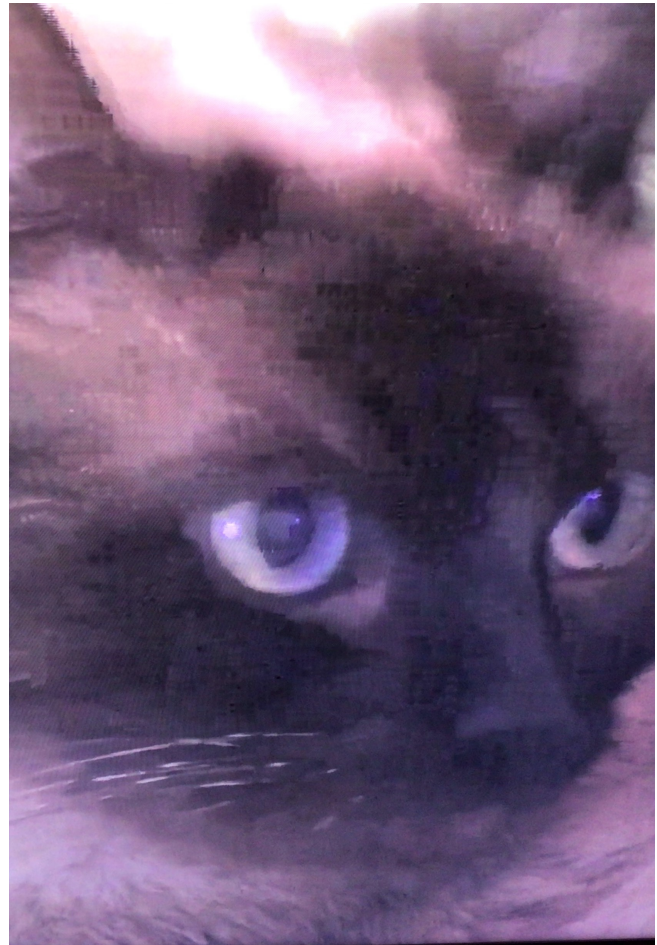

Image above - Lunch, who doesn't want to admit it but enjoys watching Rudy and Judy fight.