

CATS ILLUSTRATED

Juliet has started smoking!

For some unknown reason, Juliet has started smoking. Just yesterday, Blackpelt discovered two packs of cigarettes in Juliet's coat, and he found her lighter stashed deep in a cabinet.

Blackpelt confronted Juliet today, but at first, she claimed that she didn't know where the lighter and pack of cigarettes came from. Unfortunately, Juliet's kittens were watching, and they had seen Juliet stashing the lighter in the first place. While Blackpelt confronted Juliet, her kittens swiped the lighter and pack of cigarettes from the counter and ran off. This was not good, as cigarettes are not meant to be smoked by kittens.

Image above - Lunch, who knows that smoking is not a good habit to have.

Juliet's kittens ran to the house of Lunch's kittens, who called other kittens to the town park. Something big was going to happen.

Once every kitten had gathered in the town park, Blackpelt Jr. lit a cigarette and breathed in. He coughed and gasped, but other kittens cheered. This would be a new age. However, this fun was cut short when Juliet and Blackpelt noticed that the lighter and pack of cigarettes were missing, and called the police on their own kittens. Juliet's kittens have been detained, and the pack of cigarettes was confiscated. But this incident has made Blackpelt even more mad at Juliet, because he doesn't want their kittens to follow in Juliet's pawsteps and become smokers. Juliet has reluctantly agreed to stop smoking,

Some cats have been wondering why Juliet started smoking in the first place. Perhaps she was just looking for a bad habit to have, or maybe she actually enjoyed smoking. Juliet has not revealed her intentions to any cat, but hopefully she will stop smoking for good. Because of this, Blackpelt is monitoring Juliet carefully, and he has even gone as far as putting a camera on Juliet's car, one that only he knows the location of. His kittens are pleading to know the location, probably so they can make funny faces at it during car rides.

Image above - Blackpelt Jr., comparing smoking experiences with Juliet.

“Yeah, I smoke too. I did it first, and Juliet is copying me.”

- NAYA

Juliet's smoking habit has surprised many cats, and they don't want that habit to spread to Juliet's kittens. Juliet has promised that she would take a break from smoking, but she didn't say for how long. Blackpelt is very concerned about Juliet, as he knows that smoking is a bad habit to have. Her kittens are pestering her to let them try smoking, if only just one puff. Juliet has rejected these offers, because she knows what Blackpelt's reaction would be if she allowed her kittens to try smoking, and she values her life.

Subscribe again for more on smoking!