

CATS ILLUSTRATED

Rudy and her kittens are back from vacation!

As of late last night, Rudy, Blackspots, and their kittens are back from their trip. They have missed a lot of events while they were gone, and cats are already trying to catch them up. Rudy, Blackspots, and their kittens had a very fun vacation at the ski resort, and they are thinking about going again soon before all of the snow melts.

Image above - Rudy, who knows that she will have to start unpacking soon.

Harvey is telling Rudy about the artificial sweetener incident, and he is still saying “I told you so” to kittens who got sick from eating too much artificial sweetener. Harvey stuck with sugar the whole time, and he feels that other cats needed to learn the lesson that new things, like artificial sweetener, aren't always the best. Many cats do agree, but Rudy's kittens are disappointed that they didn't get to try it. They were also disappointed when they heard about the detention rebellion they missed, and Rudy's kittens were furious when they found out that the school had replaced the junk food in the vending machines with applesauce.

Though they are unhappy that they missed so much while they were away, Rudy's kittens are enjoying bragging to other kittens about how well they can ski now. Blackspots Jr. can do a 360 degree spin in the air, and Phantom can do a flip! Rudy spent most of her time enjoying the room service and the large TV of the cabin she had rented, while her kittens and Blackspots were skiing. Now, other kittens are jealous of the great experience that Rudy's kittens got, but Rudy's kittens had forgotten something. They would have to catch up on the schoolwork that they had missed. This would be a while, and this weekend might just be a catching-up weekend, as it can take a while to do five day's worth of homework.

Rudy's kittens' experience has gotten other kittens interested in skiing, but unfortunately there is no snow on the hills near Pawsville. The weather says that there might be one last storm, but that would be it for the winter. Kittens will be ready, as they really want to try out skiing and learn to do cool tricks like Rudy's kittens had. However, that might take more than a day or two, and who knows how long the snow will last, if it even comes.

“We were doing P.E. on our vacation. Doesn't that count as schoolwork?”

- RUDY'S KITTENS

as bad anymore.

Subscribe again for more on skiing tricks!

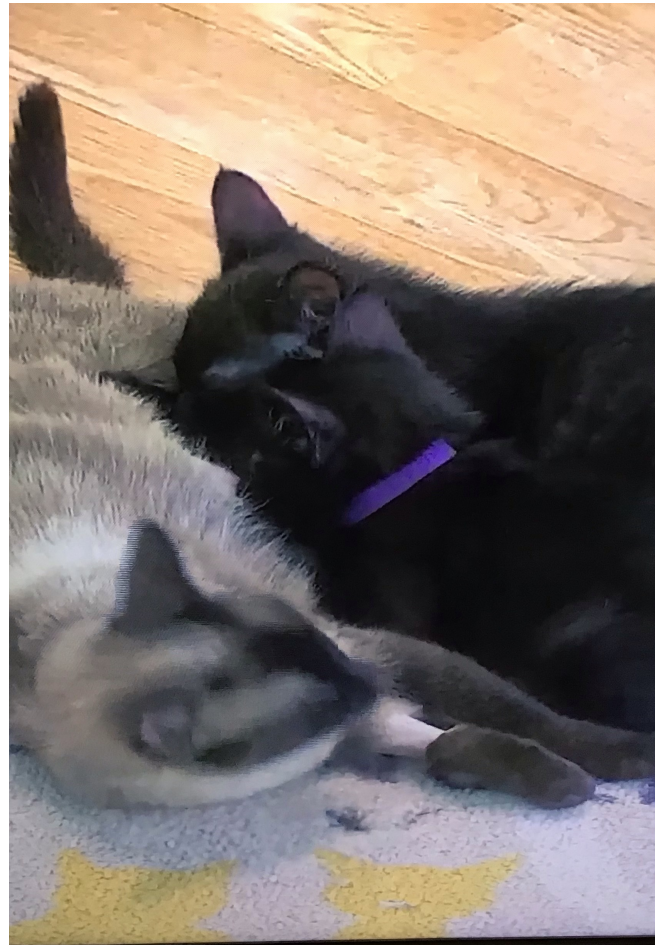

Image above - Lunch, who's not going to let her kittens go skiing because it's too dangerous.

Rudy, Blackspots, and her kittens have missed a lot of events that have happened in Pawsville recently, some good and some bad. But they enjoyed their vacation, and it did calm Rudy down, like she wanted it to. Her big work deadline is still looming, but it doesn't feel