

CATS ILLUSTRATED

Kittens have not been getting along well recently!

For some reason, kittens have not been getting along well with each other recently. Rudy's kittens were giving Juliet's kittens the silent treatment, and Naya's kittens were threatening to steal from any other kittens who approached them. This behavior is completely unexpected, as kittens usually team up to prank adult cats and play video games.

Image above - Lunch, whose kittens kicked Rudy's kittens out of their house.

This kitten conflict has affected adult cats, too. Juliet didn't let Lunch into her house yesterday, as Lunch's kittens had made fun of Wilbur Spots at lunch. Mavis was blowing pepper at Rudy yesterday, as she needed to cleanse Rudy's soul of her mischievous kittens. Lunch and Judy, who have a decent relationship, were spouting insults at each other yesterday after Judy's kittens called Lunch's kittens small and weak. This is utterly bizarre for most cats, as kittens have never had this behavior before.

Harvey has been offering a bit of free therapy for angry kittens and adult cats, though even he is being affected. North's boss at work was angry at Harvey after their kittens told them that Harvey had given them candy. No cat knows why a kitten would ever complain about that, but it happened. However, that wasn't the only problem North was in the middle of. He was cornered yesterday by a band of Judy's kittens, who were holding clubs. North was saved by a cat who happened to be walking by, who came over to see what the problem was. North was shocked, as he has never been threatened like that, especially by Judy's kittens, who he seems to get along well with.

Today, there were fights at school, even during class. Mavis's kittens reacted strongly to Rudy's kittens's muttered insult about Mavis's religious practices. Rudy's kittens ended up with black eyes and bruises, and Mavis's kittens were suspended by the school. But that wasn't the only fight. Lunch's kittens's tempers flared up when Juliet's kittens commented on how Lunch was just a worker who served food at a silly luncheon. Juliet's kittens took a bad beating, though Lunch's kittens got some large bruises too.

“Just to up the mood, I’m hacking into cats’ Catstagram accounts and posting bad comments about other cats!”

- NAYA

This spike in fights and aggression is extremely strange, and adult cats are trying to figure out why it is happening. However, adult cats are wary of each other, and it isn't easy to solve a problem when you're constantly looking over your shoulder to see if there is someone tailing you. There are only a few cats in Pawsville who haven't been affected too much, but even they are unsure what to do to make this situation better.

Subscribe again for a solution!

Image above - Rudy, who is now carrying her war club with her wherever she goes.