

---

CATS ILLUSTRATED

---

Temperatures are spiking in Pawsville!

For some reason, the temperature in Pawsville is spiking. Yesterday was just another seventy-degree day, but today the high is supposed to be eighty-five. Kittens are relieved that they don't have to go to school, as it is the weekend, as they would have to face very hot temperatures and mosquitos.

Image above - Harvey, who wishes the temperature was a lot cooler right now.

---

The need for cold drinks is even stronger now, and cats are getting desperate. They thought seventy-five degrees was bad, but this is worse. Juliet has dunked herself in an ice bath, and Judy won't move from in front of the fan in her room. However, some cats are barely affected. Mavis and her kittens do not seem bothered by the heat, and they are continuing their lives as normal. Rudy's house has air conditioning, and Rudy is not feeling uncomfortable right now, as her house is maintaining a temperature of sixty-five.

North is spending as much time as he can at Behavior and Co., where there is working air conditioning and cool drinks. Harvey's house has no air conditioning, and all of the cool drinks have been found, even the ones in North's secret stash. Harvey is begging North to do a "take your father to work" day, but North knows Harvey would make quick work of the soda at Behavior and Co., and he is telling Harvey that there isn't a day for taking your father to work. However, cats are starting to get creative about staying cool. Lunch is charging ten dollars for five minutes in the walk-in freezer at her luncheon, which is very popular.

Naya has been out stealing cold drinks from other cats, and keeping them for herself. However, whenever she goes out to steal some more after leaving her loot at her house, her kittens swoop in and take whatever she brought. They have been staying cool, with an assortment of fans, lots of soda and cold water, and ice packs. But every time Naya comes back, they pretend that they were just playing video games the whole time she was gone. This has been going well so far, and Naya has not caught on to the fact that her kittens are duping her.

"We'll do your homework for a whole week!"

- STRIPY'S KITTENS, OFFERING TO RUDY'S KITTENS IN EXCHANGE FOR TIME IN RUDY'S AIR CONDITIONED HOUSE

Rudy has had an idea, and she is starting to fill her pool again. The town pool has a half-hour wait, and Rudy knows she could make a killing selling time in her pool. Kittens are also pleading with Rudy's kittens to let them come over, as Rudy's house is air conditioned. Rudy's kittens are enjoying the power, and they are thinking about what price they will ask of other kittens. But all cats are just looking to get away from the heat right now, in any way they can.

Subscribe again for more on spiking temperatures!

Image above - Rudy, resting in her air conditioned house.