Harvey has gotten a TV!

As he is curious about why kittens like it so much, Harvey has decided to get a TV for himself. Kittens are very excited, as Harvey just happened to buy an eighty-two inch TV with a game system already attached.

Makenna is not happy with Harvey for spending a small fortune on the TV, as it was well over one thousand dollars. However, Harvey has said that he knows that many cats will get a lot out of the TV, and that he is doing it for the good of kittens. But kittens aren't the only ones having fun. Harvey and North were goofing around today playing a racing video game, and it looked like they were having a whole lot of fun. Harvey has invited some kittens over to use it, which is a dream come true for the kittens invited.

Unfortunately, there are special challenges to buying a TV that large and complicated in Harvey's current situation. He will have to pack it up again and move it when he moves, and it wasn't cheap to hire movers just to set up the TV in Harvey's living room. On top of that, there is barely enough space in the living room of the house that Harvey is moving into. It was built for a fifty-five inch TV, not an eighty-two inch one. However, many adult cats and kittens are trying to take advantage of Harvey's predicament. Naya has offered to take care of the TV while Harvey was moving into his new house, and then she would give it back when he had found a solution to the space problem. Harvey turned down this offer, as he knew that the TV would never come back if he gave it to Naya.

Rudy's kittens have tried a different tactic. They said that they would help Harvey set up a business for letting cats use his TV, in exchange for free usage and snacks. Harvey is considering this, but North has also offered to do the same, but for free. North is being much more subtle. He knows that if he stays on Harvey's good side, Harvey will let him use the TV. And wow, that racing game is fun.

Harvey is still figuring out how to work his TV, and handle all of the offers from cats to take care of it. However, Harvey loves his new TV, and he plans to keep it in good condition for as long as he can. North is also excited about using it, as the game console that came with the TV happened to come with some games.

He is enjoying playing them, and even Makenna has looked over a few. This TV is a treasure trove, with lots more fun to come for kittens and Harvey.
